Isolation is for people who have tested positive or who are presumed positive with symptoms of the disease. Isolation requires patients to self-quarantine to prevent the spread of disease. Italy placed their entire country under quarantine. Self-quarantining is recommended to people who have traveled to some areas in Italy. People are advised to stay home for at least 14 days. It can include staying home instead of hosting social events, standing 6 feet away from another person, and not shaking hands.

Social distancing is a broad category of social practices which distances people physically. It can include staying home instead of hosting social events, standing 6 feet away from another person, and not shaking hands.

Quarantine is when, under state or federal law, people are on lockdown to prevent the spread of disease. Italy placed their entire country under quarantine. Self-quarantining is recommended to people who have been exposed to the virus, but had not yet developed symptoms. They were directed to isolate to stop the spread of disease.

The best way to retain the stop the spread of the Coronavirus is practicing good hygiene. The Center for Disease Control (CDC) recommends washing hands in all staff and student restrooms, which occurs over the course of the day. The CDC recommends students wash hands every 20 minutes while in school. The CDC recommends hand washing persist effectively wash their hands. The CDC recommends hand washing persist effectively wash their hands. The CDC recommends hand washing persist effectively wash their hands. The CDC recommends hand washing persist effectively wash their hands. The CDC recommends hand washing persist effectively wash their hands. The CDC recommends hand washing persist effectively wash their hands.

On March 13th, 2020 the NBA suspended the remainder of its season after Rudy Gobert, a player for the Utah Jazz team, tested positive for the coronavirus. In the days prior, Gobert was caught in a press conference smiling high of the virus and delaminating touching microphones.

The NHL, NASCAR, and the PGA postponed scheduled events. For a short time, March Madness was trending on Twitter. Sports weren’t the only event canceled: Disneyland closed, cruise lines were docked, music festivals were sidelined, and the St. Patrick’s Day parade isanceled.

“It was nuts,” freshman Leah Phipps said. “It really seemed like the whole world shutting down, and it really was.”

Schools across the country were early to close in response to outbreak. With the closure of schools, came the uncertainty of spring events like prom, the spring play, and even graduation.

“A lot of seniors and spring sports athletes are upset,” English teacher Mrs. Katelyn Powers, said. “It’s a hard time for everyone.”

Photo Courtesy of Al Seremeno/Shutterstock.

On March 11th, 2020 the NBA suspended the remainder of its season after Rudy Gobert, a player for the Utah Jazz team, tested positive for the coronavirus. In the days prior, Gobert was caught in a press conference smiling high of the virus and delaminating touching microphones.

The NHL, NASCAR, and the PGA postponed scheduled events. For a short time, March Madness was trending on Twitter. Sports weren’t the only event canceled: Disneyland closed, cruise lines were docked, music festivals were sidelined, and the St. Patrick’s Day parade is canceled.

“It was nuts,” freshman Lea Phipps said. “It really seemed like the whole world shutting down, and it really was.”

Schools across the country were early to close in response to outbreak. With the closure of schools, came the uncertainty of spring events like prom, the spring play, and even graduation.

“A lot of seniors and spring sports athletes are upset,” English teacher Mrs. Katelyn Powers, said. “It’s a hard time for everyone.”

Photo Courtesy of Al Seremeno/Shutterstock.

On March 11th, 2020 the NBA suspended the remainder of its season after Rudy Gobert, a player for the Utah Jazz team, tested positive for the coronavirus. In the days prior, Gobert was caught in a press conference smiling high of the virus and delaminating touching microphones.

The NHL, NASCAR, and the PGA postponed scheduled events. For a short time, March Madness was trending on Twitter. Sports weren’t the only event canceled: Disneyland closed, cruise lines were docked, music festivals were sidelined, and the St. Patrick’s Day parade is canceled.

“It was nuts,” freshman Lea Phipps said. “It really seemed like the whole world shutting down, and it really was.”

Schools across the country were early to close in response to outbreak. With the closure of schools, came the uncertainty of spring events like prom, the spring play, and even graduation.

“A lot of seniors and spring sports athletes are upset,” English teacher Mrs. Katelyn Powers, said. “It’s a hard time for everyone.”

Photo Courtesy of Al Seremeno/Shutterstock.