MAKING KINDNESS GO VIRAL

STAFF AND DISTRICT SPREAD KINDNESS DURING SCHOOL CLOSURES, PUT PEOPLE FIRST

The district moved forward with remodeling the track and field. The nearly 2 million dollar project was slated to begin in late April after track season; with closures, Nehema Construction broke ground several weeks early. “It was an outmoded facility that needed to be upgraded to ensure our students and community members have a safe venue to expand their efforts and abilities” Assistant Principal Mr. Joe Kilzer said. Photo Courtesy of Mr. Jim Frederick.

CLOSURES, PUT PEOPLE FIRST

STAFF AND DISTRICT SPREAD

GO VIRAL

MAKING

hourly staff through the end of the school year.

Nearly 60% of the district participates in free or reduced lunch. The district also continued to pay

THANK YOU, STAFF.

Activities secretary Mrs. Melissa Mackey and her family bought coffee for any high school staff member to pick up from Scooter’s shortly after the closure as a thank you for working hard and adjusting to hardships.

LEISURE LEARNING.

Freshman Aracely Miranda De Leon passes the time by doing some independent reading.

SNACK ATTACK.

Sophomore Serenity Smith poses with her favorite quarantine snacks, Takis.

ARTISTIC.

GREAT OUTDOORS.

Senior Zach Jepsen hits the trails. Many people in the metro utilized park trails to stay active.

NEAT AND CLEAN.

One easy challenge was tidy up a messy space. Freshman Cunningham decided to pick up her room and earn some money for the food bank.

LEARNING.

Freshman Emma Scheitl hunkers down at the computer to complete her fourth term math course this year on Edgenuity, an online learning platform. When the school first closed, students were offered 3 learning activities a week for each semester-long class they were enrolled in. As closures extended, the school responded by placing students in for-credit online courses. Non-digital students were given paper-pencil packets. “Homeschooling has been a challenge, but we continue to push forward and do everything we can to keep going,” Scheitl’s mom, Melissa Annin said. Photo Courtesy of Melissa Annin.

UP FOR ANY CHALLENGE

ATHLETES STAY STRAP IN AN EXTENDED OFF-SEASON

BOYS GOLF.

Senior Brett Bodin, Junior Noah Talmadge, Junior Jackson Corry, and Senior Aaron Fowler limit the number of people in their golf practice to less than ten and hit some balls on the range. Photo Courtesy Brett Bodin.

SAMING.

Seniors Lyndsie Stewart and Kaley Ferguson hit the high school’s tennis courts with Ferguson’s parents. Even though the season is canceled, Ferguson continues to play and stay sharp; she’s lucky to have fellow tennis players who live in her house. “I continue to play tennis because my love for tennis has grown since joining the team,” Ferguson said. “It brings me happiness to go out and play with people.” Photo Courtesy of Kaley Ferguson.

PASSING TIME IN QUARANTINE

STUDENTS PRACTICE SOCIAL DISTANCING AND TRY TO KEEP BUSY

LEARNING.

Freshman Aracely Miranda De Leon passes the time by doing some independent reading.

ARITIFIC.

SNACK ATTACK.

Sophomore Serenity Smith poses with her favorite quarantine snacks, Takis.

ARTISTIC.

GREAT OUTDOORS.

Senior Zach Jepsen hits the trails. Many people in the metro utilized park trails to stay active.

NEAT AND CLEAN.

One easy challenge was tidy up a messy space. Freshman Cunningham decided to pick up her room and earn some money for the food bank.

LEARNING.

Freshman Emma Scheitl hunkers down at the computer to complete her fourth term math course this year on Edgenuity, an online learning platform. When the school first closed, students were offered 3 learning activities a week for each semester-long class they were enrolled in. As closures extended, the school responded by placing students in for-credit online courses. Non-digital students were given paper-pencil packets. “Homeschooling has been a challenge, but we continue to push forward and do everything we can to keep going,” Scheitl’s mom, Melissa Annin said. Photo Courtesy of Melissa Annin.

UP FOR ANY CHALLENGE

ATHLETES STAY STRAP IN AN EXTENDED OFF-SEASON

BOYS GOLF.

Senior Brett Bodin, Junior Noah Talmadge, Junior Jackson Corry, and Senior Aaron Fowler limit the number of people in their golf practice to less than ten and hit some balls on the range. Photo Courtesy Brett Bodin.

SAMING.

Seniors Lyndsie Stewart and Kaley Ferguson hit the high school’s tennis courts with Ferguson’s parents. Even though the season is canceled, Ferguson continues to play and stay sharp; she’s lucky to have fellow tennis players who live in her house. “I continue to play tennis because my love for tennis has grown since joining the team,” Ferguson said. “It brings me happiness to go out and play with people.” Photo Courtesy of Kaley Ferguson.

PASSING TIME IN QUARANTINE

STUDENTS PRACTICE SOCIAL DISTANCING AND TRY TO KEEP BUSY

LEARNING.

Freshman Aracely Miranda De Leon passes the time by doing some independent reading.

ARITIFIC.

SNACK ATTACK.

Sophomore Serenity Smith poses with her favorite quarantine snacks, Takis.

ARTISTIC.

GREAT OUTDOORS.

Senior Zach Jepsen hits the trails. Many people in the metro utilized park trails to stay active.

NEAT AND CLEAN.

One easy challenge was tidy up a messy space. Freshman Cunningham decided to pick up her room and earn some money for the food bank.

LEARNING.

Freshman Emma Scheitl hunkers down at the computer to complete her fourth term math course this year on Edgenuity, an online learning platform. When the school first closed, students were offered 3 learning activities a week for each semester-long class they were enrolled in. As closures extended, the school responded by placing students in for-credit online courses. Non-digital students were given paper-pencil packets. “Homeschooling has been a challenge, but we continue to push forward and do everything we can to keep going,” Scheitl’s mom, Melissa Annin said. Photo Courtesy of Melissa Annin.

UP FOR ANY CHALLENGE

ATHLETES STAY STRAP IN AN EXTENDED OFF-SEASON

BOYS GOLF.

Senior Brett Bodin, Junior Noah Talmadge, Junior Jackson Corry, and Senior Aaron Fowler limit the number of people in their golf practice to less than ten and hit some balls on the range. Photo Courtesy Brett Bodin.

SAMING.

Seniors Lyndsie Stewart and Kaley Ferguson hit the high school’s tennis courts with Ferguson’s parents. Even though the season is canceled, Ferguson continues to play and stay sharp; she’s lucky to have fellow tennis players who live in her house. “I continue to play tennis because my love for tennis has grown since joining the team,” Ferguson said. “It brings me happiness to go out and play with people.” Photo Courtesy of Kaley Ferguson.